"What Will the Harvest Ba?" The June report of the agricultural department on the condition of the crop shows that most of the principal productions of the country promise well, there has been a small falling off in the number of seres of winter wheat, the sere age of spring wheat has increased largely,

as has that of barley, cats, and cotton.

The condition of all the crops is above the average, and so far as the cereals, except corn, are concerned the season is so far advanced as to make it almost a certainty that the product of the year will be good. It is too early yet to approximate the result as to corn and cotton.

It may be fairly assumed that natur and the farmers have done their part of the work and that at least a full average crop will be produced in 1887. This is particularly true as to the cereal crops of the great northwest. In the territories, through which the Northern Pacific and the Chicago and Northwestern pass, the increase in the acreege has been very large, in Dakota the increase being 24 per cent., in Idaho, 15 per cent., and in Montana, 10 per cent. upon last year, while the condition in these sections is very much better than ever before But other conditions have changed. The form value of wheat in 1884 in the great wheat raising states and territories ranged from 45 to 72 cents, except in California, where the price was $1 per bushel. The price, to a great extent, was controlled by the expense of transportation to one of the great markets. There was an abundance of money to handle the crops and trans portation was cheap. These conditions have changed. Money is scarce, and the laws of trade having been trammeled by vicious legislation, transportation is much higher, which of course reduces the farm value of wheat, the range being from 20 to 25 per cent, below the prices of 1884. This means much less money to the farmer, but gives no cheape bread to the consumer, for the increase freights keep the prices high in the eas

All the people of the country will some discover that Democrats have not sense enough to run the government, when they lock up the people's money in the treasury and prevent them from getting fair values for their products, by trammeling the laws of trade.

Trade Conditions.
The exports of domestic merchandise for the month of May were valued at $12,418, 297 as against $52,704,620 for May 1886, a full ing off of $10,375,333. The most significant fact as to these exports is that in May, 1886 the imports were $52,871,744, an excess of only $77,124 of imports over exports, while in May, 1887, the imports have increased to $58,662,415, an excess of imports over exports of domestic goods of $16,944,118.

The condition of trade can best be shown by the following figures: For the first seven menths of this fiscal year the exports ex cceded the imports $72,230,002, and this is three months has been reduced to less than one half that sum. In the last two months, including in the exports foreign goods re exported, the excess of imports has been over $31,000,000. Such an immense falling off in trade-that is, in the export trade—has never be fore been known. The shipments of gold and silver coin and bullion are very light. the balances against the country having been pald in securities. For the five months of 1886, taking all the exports of "domestic" and "foreign" merchandis "coin and buillon." the excess of exports over imports was $28,338,957. For the five months of this year the excess of imports over exports is $8,433,468, a difference of $28,821,425 against the present year. A terrible effort is being made in certain quarters to convey the idea that the bust ness situation is all right, but there is theatcisi revolution now plainly develope to the observing mind. The signs are omin ous when the candle burns at both ends The New York Commercial Bulletin, commenting on this subject, says:

It is the more necessary to note those changes particularly, because all judgment of the financial future must depend upon a cor-rect understanding of the recent phenomena. Certainly these are unusual, if not unprece

THE Post very kindly suggests that the NATIONAL REPUBLICAN accept the opinions of the comptroller of the currency as to the financial and business situation. We are indebted to our neighbor for the suggestion. It would save labor and make life easter, but unfortunately the NATIONAL REPUBLI-CAN has a habit of thinking for itself and not taking its opinions second hand from any one. Of course this involves investigation and labor, but only through these can the truth be arrived at, and that is what the NATIONAL REPUBLICAN proposes to give its readers. On Tuesday, the 21st instant, the Na-TIONAL REPUBLICAN published a letter from Tah-Bu-Nanah-Kah, principal chief of the Comanche Indians, to the international council of the five civilized tribes at Eufaula. The letter was printed only in the NATIONAL REPUBLICAN. The New York Sun takes part of that letter, calls it an "address" to the international council, and compares the views of Tah-Ru-Nanah-Kah and Henry George on the land question. The Sun broadly intimates that Mr. George's land theories are a violation of the eighth commandment and coolly breaks it by appropriating without credit from the Na-

NOTES FROM

FAN DEPARTMENT.

We have a good stock of fans-all kinds, and at all prices. We have not bought extravagantly, but we have purchased carefully, and as a result we are able to present an extensive variety. We are selling fancy folding fans as low as 10 cents each, cheaply made, to be sure; but they'll stir up just as much breeze as those costing $ each. A little better grade in paper fans we ask 15 cents for. Ivory stick fans we ask only 25 cents for, and the same is our price for linen chromo fans. For 39 cents we have fancy sateen fans. Gauze fans we are selling at 21c. 25c, 39c, and 49c. Our gilt-stick satin fans are marked 98 cents, and so ar. our satin fans with olive wood sticks. We have two lots of fans left over from last season's stock. For some reason they don't sell very well, and they are shopworn. That's one reason why they ought to be reduced. One lot comprises 38 fans marked last season at from 15 to 35 cents. You can take a choice at 10 cents each. Then we have 24 gauze fans cardinal, pink, blue. cream, and white large, well made, and marked $1.24 last season. They didn't sell well at this price, so we reduced them to 98 cents. They sold better. This year, though, there doesn't seem to be any demand for them even at 98 cents. Look and see if you think they are worth 75 cents each.

In that 5-inch Silk Sash Ribbon, at 10 cents a yard, we have cardinal and brown left.
